Buy Main Street Property.
Frederick A. Jacobs and his niece, Mrs. W. I. Bullard, have purchased from the estate of O. P. Jacobs the building on Main street next north of the town hall block. It is possible that the purchasers may remodel the building for occupancy as a business and residential block.

Governor's Proclamation Read.
Governor Marcus H. Holcomb's Thanksgiving proclamation was read at the masses at St. James' church as a document suggesting special consideration in relation to the coming holiday.

Arthur Gallup, who has been employed at Nantasket beach, has returned here.

Out Under Bonds.
Frederick Dubuc has been released under bond, from Brooklyn and a date in January fixed as the time for hearing of the matter that brought about his incarceration.

Local people who were at the Yale-Harvard game in New Haven describe the assemblage as the most wonderful ever seen within the limits of a space no larger than the Bowl. The crush of automobile traffic is said to have been astounding over routes away from the field.

Patience, relative to the building of state highway trunk line links in this vicinity, will have its reward during the spring and summer. It is asserted by persons here who have reliable sources of information.

The schools in Killingly close tomorrow for the Thanksgiving recess, which will allow the teachers not resident here to be at their homes for the holiday and week end.

Holiday Schedule at Post Office.
Postmaster George M. Phillips announced Monday that the office will be closed Thanksgiving day from 11 a. m. to 6:30 p. m. The rural service will make but one delivery and collection. No money order or postal savings business will be transacted.

Change in Fire Alarm Bells.
Old fire alarm boxes have been removed to new locations and new boxes bearing old numbers were installed in the new locations Monday by the fire alarm company.

A new box, No. 24, and a new location is near the Main Street Railroad crossing. The other new boxes are located at the corner of Main and Water, corner of Main and Railroad, and corner of Main and Reynolds.

POLICE DOG CAPTURED.
Thanks to the ingenuity of Peter Charbonneau, a police dog, that escaped from the office of the Adams Express company here, has been captured and turned over to the consignee, Henri I. Bear, East Killingly.

Mr. Charbonneau rigged a large box with a trap door such as is used in sections of Canada for the capture of wolves, and laid a meat bait outside the door. This artifice was repeated for three nights. On the fourth night the bait was hung inside the box and in such a manner that when it was pulled off a peg by the dog the trap door behind the animal let down and made a prisoner of the runaway.

Mr. Bear was notified and now has the dog at his kennels. H. H. Starkweather, agent here for the Adams Express company, gave Mr. Charbonneau credit for capturing the dog, which was in the company's care when it escaped.

DAYVILLE WAGE EARNERS.
Assawaga Woolen Company Posts Notice For Third Time This Year—Hours Reduced.

At the mill of the Assawaga company, one of the Angus Park group, at Dayville Monday notices were posted of another ten per cent. advance in wages. This is the third advance at this plant within the year 1916. One of the other advances was of ten per cent., the other five per cent. In addition to this splendid boosting of the wage scale the company during the past summer reduced its working hours, without reduction of pay, to 45 a week, this being equivalent to another advance of 8 1/3 per cent. This surprising upward climb of the wage scale during a period of less than 11 months, combined with a reduction of working hours with pay as the Davville Monday notices were posted, is without parallel in the history of textile manufacturing in this section.

The Assawaga company employs 250 hands and the plant is very busy at the present time with fine prospects for months to come.

WEDDING.
Schmidt-O'Neill.

Miss Annie O'Neill and Harry Schmidt, both of Dayville, were married at St. Joseph's church in that place at 8 o'clock Monday morning.

Union Service.
Rev. Nathan H. Gist of Webster will conduct the union Thanksgiving service at the Congregational church here Wednesday evening. General invitation to attend has been issued.

Special music for the mass and vespers at the fifth anniversary services of St. Mary's church, December 8, is being rehearsed by the choir.

Services at Episcopal Church.
While members of the church will join in the union Thanksgiving service tomorrow evening, there is to be a Thanksgiving service at St. Philip's church Thursday morning at 9 o'clock and holy communion. New Year's evening there will not be a service.

Next Sunday being the first Sunday of the month, there will be communion at 10:45 service as well as at the 8 o'clock service. The collection will be for the fund for the blind.

Chamber of Commerce Dinner.
There was a meeting Monday evening of those having charge of the arrangements for the Chamber of Commerce dinner, which is scheduled for the evening of December 5. The promise now is that there will be a large attendance.

WEDDING.
Duple-Dufault.

At St. Mary's church, at 9:30 Monday morning Miss Belvedere Dufault of this city and Arthur Duple were married by Rev. Charles F. Bedard, who also was superintendent of the mass. The witnesses were Leandre Duple, father of the groom, and John B. Duple, brother of the groom.

Mr. Duple is employed on the Southbridge-Worcester car line. Formerly his home was in this city.

SALE OF TWO FARMS.
FOR GAME PRESERVE
John Hayward, of Gardner, Mass., Acquires Property in Gary District.

Announcement was made Monday of the sale of two farms, aggregating 165 acres, in the Gary district, to John Hayward of Gardner, Mass. One of the farms, known as the George A. Pettis place, was owned by John Peterson, the other, known as the James Jackson farm, was owned by Mrs. Katherine St. George of this city.

The price of the two farms was $15,000, but it is understood to have been about $15,000.

Mr. Hayward bought the place for a game preserve, which he is to establish. Already he has one small preserve at Gardner, Mass., where he is known as a wealthy chair manufacturer.

The farms purchased here are considered ideal for the purpose for which they are intended. Brooks ran through them. These will be dammed and
